BLAINE IN OHIO.

The Great Commoner Continues His Conquest in Ohio.

Large and Enthusiastic Crowd Greet Him at Elyria.

Next Week He Visits Toledo and Further West.

Blaine's Tour

CLEVELAND, September 27.—At about half past 11 Mr Blaine came down from Mrs Garfield's house to the Kennard, where he remained in his parlor receiving callers until he went to the depot to take a special train for Elyria at 1 o'clock On this short trip he was accompanied by ex Governor Foster Hon. Amos Townsend, M. Hanna, Judge Foraker, Hon. A W. Tenney, of Brooklyn, Hon Wm Bingham, president of the Business Men's club of Cleveland, and others Senator Plumb, of Kansas, was on the train when it arrived at Elyria at 1 45

The pretty little town was crowded with its citizens and people from the surrounding country, and the jam at the depot was so great that there was difficulty in getting to carriages. There was a meeting in progress in Court House square When Mr Blaine mounted the stand the people cheered him repeatedly. He was introduced by Mr C. W. Johnson, the chairman of the county committee, and he spoke as follows

Mr. Chairman and ladies and gentlemen of the county of Lorain: This is not my first visit to your beautiful county I recall with great pleasure a previous visit when I was met as cordially as I am to-day, and I knew of your county years before I had the pleasure of seeing it, for who does not know of the advanced stand and great leadership which the county of Lorain took in the prolonged anti-slavery struggle [Cheers] It was your sturdy citizens and the great institution at Oberlin that disseminated those principles of free dom which made this northwestern county the vanguard in the contest with slavery [Renewed cheering] That contest ended in victory, and another is now committed to your charge, and to-day in an emphatic sense to the leadership of Ohio But all other questions laid aside, shall American labor be protected? [Great cheering] During the days of the anti-slavery struggle there was no side issue that could divert anti-slavery men from the one great absorbing question, and I believe that the same discipline that prevails now that no side issue will be permitted to divert you from the controlling question of this campaign ["Good! good!"] I thank you gentlemen for your reception and I consider that I have only indicated the subject upon which others will address you, while I bid you a very cordial farewell. [Prolonged cheering.]

Judge W it made a brief speech and was followed by ex-Secretary Windom and Mr. Tenney. Mr. Blaine and party returned to Cleveland, where they arrived at 4 o'clock.

CLEVELAND, September 27.—Mr. Blaine remained at the Kennard receiving callers until 6 o'clock, when he returned to Mrs. Garfield's. He will spend a quiet Sunday there. On Monday at 9 he will leave for Toledo and beyond

Pardoned by Governor Grant

DENVER, September 27.—Governor Grant to day issued pardons to Daniel Harris, sentenced on the 26th of May, '81, by the district court of Arapahoe county to six years in the state's prison for robbery, and Edward J. Gill, sentenced by Judge Carpenter of the district court of Clear Creek county on June 16, 1883, to four years in the state's prison for grand larceny.

Shipping Disasters

ST. JOHN'S, N. F, September 27.—The steamer Bristol, Montreal for Bristol, arrived here with her propellor broken, smashed by collision with ice. An average of fifteen ice bergs pass St. John's daily going south in the track of ocean steamers. Craft arriving at St. John's report passing large quantities of wreckage on the coast of Labrador. On Thursday a fierce hurricane was experienced On the same date the schooner Lissette was lost, crew saved

QUEBEC, September 27.—The steamer Moravia, from Glasgow, arrived to-day, reports August 27, heavy seas struck her side forcing the water against the exhaust pipes and causing the condenser door to burst. The engine room was flooded and the lower fire put out. She was fifty miles from Ireland at the time The crew were two days and nights trying to bail her out. On Sunday morning they were able to light the fires but owing to the condition of the engine thought it advisable to return to Queenstown.

The Fire Record

GREENPOINT, L I, September 27. About 12 45 this morning fire broke out in the furniture factory of Charles Neidlo & Co, Williamsburg, and quickly gutted the building. The flames spread to a planing mill adjacent and it was partially destroyed. Total loss $750,000.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H, September 27.—The Rockingham house, the largest hotel and one of the finest in New England, burned this morning. Nothing but the walls are left standing. The flames started near the boiler room and made rapid progress through the building Fortunately the stairways remained intact and the guests all escaped. Some of them lost considerable jewelry and money. Sailors from the United States steamer Vandalia rendered valuable aid.

An Important Council

PARIS September 27.—A meeting of the French cabinet was held to-day Prime Minister Ferry submitted the identical note presented Nubar Pasha, the Egyptian prime minister, by representatives of the Russian, German, Austrian and French governments protesting against suspension of the sinking fund. M Ferry informed his colleagues that Admiral Courbet had telegraphed that French preparations for resumption of warlike operations against the Chinese were completed The cabinet resolved to summon the chambers to meet October 14. The government has resolved to retrench its expenditures during the year 1885. Estimates will be cut down 50,000,000 francs

Authors' Protection

BERNE, September 27.—The copyright congress resolved that authors belonging to the union shall enjoy equal rights with natives of contracting countries subject to the laws of the country where the work originated, or, in case of unpublished manuscript, to laws of authors of the country These rules are to apply to authors publishing their work in a country belonging to the union of which they are not natives. Authors are to enjoy ten years' exclusive right to translation in all countries belonging to the union. The publication of extracts of scientific works or works of instruction will be permitted provided the author's name is given Musical works to be protected include arrangements or compositions based on the MS from original works A permanent international protection bureau will be established

Railroad Accident

CHICAGO, September 27.—A Journal's Peoria special says Three freight trains left Rock Island about the same time last night over the Peoria & Rock Island railway. The first train was unable to accomplish the ascent of the heavy grade near Dunlap and was being aided by the engine of the second train. A signal was sent back to warn the third train, but it was not observed and it went crashing into the rear of the second train. The engineer of the third engine, Michael Radigan, was instantly killed. The fireman of the same engine and a stockman on the second were badly injured. The entire second train was badly wrecked and one car of cattle consumed by fire.

Change in the Northwestern

NEW YORK, September 27 Directors of the Chicago & Northwestern railway company after their adjournment this afternoon issued the following "The only business of the board of any interest was the resignation of Messers. Jay Gould, Sidney Dillon and J. B Redfield, and the election in their places of W. H Vanderbilt, Horace Williams and D B. Kimball, of Boston The changes are of no significance as to friendly relations between the company and the parties resigning Messrs Kimball and Williams represent the interest of Blair roads

Bounced by Scribes

PARIS, September 27.—The newspaper quarrel between Arene, the Corsican deputy, and a political writer has resulted in a collision Arene and friends forced an entrance to the office of Le Fevre, editor of the Radical, and made a violent attack on him. The noise of the struggle brought in the staff who summarily ejected Arene and his friends A loaded revolver was found upon the person of Arene. Both Arene and Barbarti were disarmed by Le Fevre and his staff and handed over to the police.

Railroad Differences

NEW YORK September 27. Commissioner Pearson said to-day that the meeting of railroad presidents, which has been held during the week had not been entirely harmonious, so many interests were to be considered, but the differences did not approach so serious a stage as to threaten disruption of the pool. Commissioner Fink, he said, would grapple with the questions raised and would not resign.

A Niagara Experiment.

BUFFALO, September 27. B. F. Chapman, of Wharton Ont., made an experiment on the Niagara river with an air-tight boat. She went through the rapids all right below the falls and came near enough to the Canada shore to be caught, and was found uninjured. The boat was again sent into the current and headed for the terrible whirlpool, where she struck a rock and almost instantly went to pieces.

Embezzlement Compromised

WASHINGTON, September 27.—The acting secretary of the treasury has accepted the offer of Charles H. Barth to pay $32,800 in compromise of $100,000 alleged to have been been embezzled by him while in the service of the United States as clerk in the quartermaster general's department at San Francisco several years ago. It was shown that no more could be recovered

Fast Pacing

MILWAUKEE, September 27.—In the races to-day at Cold Spring park Richball paced a mile in 2 13¼ and Johnston in 2 10. A strong wind was blowing, the weather was raw and the track heavy in places. Minnie R and her running mate Firebrand made a mile in 2 05¼, lowering her record three fourths of a second.

Garrett's Memory.

BALTIMORE, September 27.—There were meetings to-day of the Merchants and Manufacturers association, board of trade, chemical and fertilizer exchange, and Cumberland coal shippers, by all of which resolutions of respect to the memory of Garrett passed. The funeral will probably be attend more largely than any before in the history of Maryland.

Senate Investigation

SAN FRANCISCO, September 27. Senators Dawes, Morgan and Cameron, sub-committee on Indian affairs, returned east to-day after investigating the Round Valley reservation. They will stop on their way to investigate Mission Indians. They refused to make public the result of their investigation.

A Terrible Storm.

CHICAGO, September 27.—The Inter Ocean's Des Moines, Iowa, special says: A terrible storm of wind and hail passed over the south part of Sac county last night. A bank building at Wall Lake was wrecked and an old man named Strong killed by a piece of flying lumber. Advices from the district visited by the storm are very meagre.

Striking Miners Endorsed

COLUMBUS, September 27.—A citizens' meeting was held this evening to express sympathy with locked-out miners in Hocking valley. Resolutions were adopted condemning the course of operators in placing troops in the valley, and endorse the strikers so far.

FIGHTING THE FLAMES.

Cleveland Assaulted by an Organized Gang of Incendiaries.

Twelve Partly Successful Attempts in Two Days.

The Political Alliance Announce a Presidential Ticket.

Fire Bugs in Cleveland

CLEVELAND, September 27.—At one p m the twelfth incendiary fire in Cleveland within 48 hours was started in the lumber yard of the Cleveland Sawmill and Lumber company in the heart of the lumber district on the flats. A strong wind carried the flames east through the yard, destroying a million feet of lumber and about fifty feet of trestle of the Cannoton Valley railway, cutting off trains. The fire was here checked with a loss of $20,000.

About four a small boy standing near the passenger depot of the Cannoton Valley railway observed a man creep stealthily up to the baggage car and passenger coach standing on the side track. Shortly afterward he noticed flames issuing from the rear end and gave the alarm A locomotive hooked up and drew the cars into an open space where they were completely gutted. The entire department was at the lumber fire, and had the flames from the burning cars reached the depot a large district filled with wooden buildings must have been swept bare.

Toward 5 o'clock fire was discovered in the Green block, St. Claire street, but it was extinguished without damage. The kindlings used were two packing boxes saturated with coal oil. No arrests.

Purdy & McNeal, one of the largest lumber firms in the city, to-day received an anonymous letter from Chicago warning them that their stock would be in ashes before Monday. Thos. Manning, machine works, received a similar letter and both firms will take precautions accordingly. The excitement is general, and hardly a resident of Cleveland but feels apprehensions for the safety of their property

The Alliance's Ticket.

PHILADELPHIA, September 27.—The following order has been issued by the national council of the American political alliance

PHILADELPHIA, September 25.

In accordance with orders to state councils issued August 1st calling for nomination by councils for president and vice president of the United States, to be voted for at the coming election, the national council hereby announce that Wm. L. Ellsworth of Pennsylvania, having received the highest number of votes for president of the United States, and Chas H. Waterman of New York having received the highest number of votes for vice president they are hereby declared to be duly selected nominees of the American political alliance. All state councils are therefore ordered to prepare electoral tickets in their respective states and report the same without delay to the national headquarters. By action of the grand council of the United States the oath of the order has been rescinded

United in Death.

DALLAS, Texas, September 27.—A shocking double tragedy was developed this evening by a discovery in the woods beyond the corporation on the west fork of the Trinity river. The victims when first discovered were side by side, the man's arms extended and partly lying on each side of his love, as if in the agonies of death he sought to embrace her in his convulsive grasp. She was apparently aged about 18, wore a diamond brooch and was dressed with exquisite taste which bore no outward evidence of poverty. He appeared a few years her senior. Between them lay a revolver with two chambers empty. Near by was found a note written in a clear, bold hand, saying:

"As we cannot be united in life, we will be in death.

"GEORGE FAUSTIC AND ANNIE MANLOR"

Appearances and an examination of the bodies lead to the conclusion that the note was written before reaching the fatal scene and that after a final leave taking he fired the pistol in her mouth, thus killing her. He then placed the weapon to his temple and again pulling the trigger fell close by her side. Beyond the names on the bit of paper nothing further is known which might give a clue to their identity. The bodies still warm were taken in charge of by an undertaker and will be held until a claimant appears.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, September 27.—Wool in fair demand, firm Domestic fleece 32 to 40, pulled 18 to 34, Texas 14 to 23.

Money easy 1 to 1½, closed offered 1¾; prime paper 5½ to 6½; sterling exchange firm 4 83½, demand 4 84½; government strong, railways generally firm, state securities dull. Speculation at the stock exchange to-day was tame but the tendency was toward higher prices. At the opening the market was irregular. New York Central was slightly weaker on the report that bonds would be issued, selling down ¾ per cent to 93¾. Before midday a firmer tone set in and there was a general advance in prices. Subsequently New York Central weakened and dropped to 93¼, the lowest point of the week. In final dealings there was a rally under the leadership of St. Paul. The market closed strong The borrowing demand continues brisk. Compared with last night closing prices are ¼ to 1½ per cent higher, except for Central Pacific, Jersey Central and New York Central, which are ¼ to ¾ per cent lower. Sales 166,000 shares.

The week closed on a dull and uninteresting market for mining shares. Sales to-day were Consolidated Virginia at 24, regular 25 buyer 30, Eureka 3.05, seller 10, Gold Strike Ophir 1.15; Standard 1.40; Bodie 42; Sierra Nevada 1 30, Homestake 10, Harlem 6; Mexican 1 95 to 1.40, Grand Prize 20, Union Consolidated 1.20, Belle Isle 55, North Belle Isle 33, Sutro Tunnel 17, California 34

MORE PARTICULARS.

The Death of Miss Carrie Welton on Long's Peak.

Lamb's Story Proves Untrue in Some Particulars.

Her Previous Experience in Mountain Climbing.

Miss Carrie J Welton, who perished from the cold on Long's Peak last Tuesday night, was quite well known at both Colorado Springs and Manitou, having spent some time here this spring and summer Early in the spring, when the trail was almost impassable on account of the depth of the snow, Miss Welton accomplished the ascent of Pike's Peak She was told by every one that the undertaking was a foolish and dangerous one, but she set her mind on being the first person to make the ascent for the season of 1884 Two competent guides consented to make the venture The trip was a very tedious one and the whole party suffered from the cold The start was made from the Barker house at midnight. One year ago Miss Welton made the same trip and encountered a severe storm

Below we give later particulars taken from the Denver Tribune-Republican of Saturday

Miss Carrie I Welton a wealthy young lady of New York city, was frozen to death while making the descent of Long's Peak on Tuesday. Long's Peak has an altitude of 14,271 feet and is one of the highest mountains in Colorado and one of the most difficult of ascent. Its summit which towers above the clouds, is covered with snow during the entire summer, and while it is the least traveled by tourists of any of the high Colorado peaks, its ascent has never been considered dangerous in the pleasant summer and fall months The mountain is located at the head of Estes Park, one of the most fashionable summer resorts in the Rocky mountains.

MISS WELTON'S HEROISM.

Miss Welton has been summering in Colorado, and two weeks ago took up her residence in Estes Park, stopping alone at the Principal hotel, her friends, among them Mrs. Warren of New York, remaining at Colorado Springs, where the whole party had spent several weeks previous. Miss Welton spent much of her time in horseback riding and visiting the surrounding points of interest in the mountains. She resolved on making the ascent of Long's Peak, which stood as a huge sentinel at the head of the park, and for this purpose set out on Monday last on horseback. Seven miles away, at the foot of the peak, is a cabin occupied by a ranchman, named Lamb, and his wife and son, a young man of nineteen. Here Miss Welton reined up for the night, first having engaged the services of Carlisle Lamb, the son, to act as her escort and guide to the peak, he having acted in that capacity to tourists on several occasions.

OFF FOR THE PEAK.

Next morning at sunrise Miss Welton and young Lamb, seated on sure-footed broncos, were wending their way up the narrow and uneven trail leading to the summit. The weather was warm and pleasant, and there were no forebodings that a delightful trip above the clouds was not before them. It took five hours to make the first seven miles, so difficult was the trail. This brought them to timber line, and the snow had then become so deep and the trail so obscured that it was decided to hitch the horses and proceed up the mountain on foot, as the banks of snow would bear the weight of men, while the horses would break through. The air at that altitude was getting chilly, and the clouds were just above them. Wrapping themselves in heavy clothing, they proceeded on foot. The distance to the summit was about four miles farther up, and this ascent was made after much tedious delay and hard work, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

A HEAVY SNOW STORM

Their stay on the peak was not of long duration A heavy storm had in the meantime set in below them, and the dark clouds were being tumbled about in frightful confusion From the rolling and tumbling of the huge bank of clouds, as seen from above, the guide knew that he and his fair companion had a risky descent before them Miss Welton, who had insisted on going to the summit when the guide advised a retreat, was now thoroughly frightened at the prospect of spending a night on the mountain and in a raging snow storm It was about 5 o'clock when the return journey was started They had not proceeded far when the heavy storm clouds lifted and the travelers found themselves in the midst of a blinding snow storm, the heaviest, the guide says, he ever saw in the mountains.

MISS WELTON BECOMES EXHAUSTED.

Miss Welton began to complain of being wearied, and, after having traveled two miles and a half from the summit, completely gave out. Before this she had been aided down the trail by the guide, who did all in his power to assist her. When exhaustion overcame her the guide made an attempt to carry her down the trail Miss Welton weighed about 140 pounds, and, as the trail is so rough and precipitous, that traveling it without any burden is considered a feat of daring and of strength, young Lamb found it extremely difficult to make any progress. Darkness had set in, and he had to grope his way For two hours he plodded on with his heavy burden, and was only able to make two thirds of a mile. During this time, Miss Welton was growing more and more numb with the cold. The storm, in the meantime, was growing more furious. At 10 o'clock the guide gave out, and, sitting down, he told Miss Welton of his condition He, too, was getting so benumbed, that he could scarcely walk, and the only chance of saving either of their lives, he told her, was for him to hurry on, and seek assistance

ABANDONED ON THE PEAK

At first she objected to being left alone, but finally consented to remain where she was until Lamb could return The horses were hitched about two miles further down the trail, and for these, after bidding Miss Welton farewell, the guide made the greatest possible speed The moon now arose and materially aided him on his way The horses were found as they had been left, and mounting one of these and leading the other, young Lamb hurried to his father's cabin, seven miles away He made the distance in an hour, and informed his father of what had occurred. Two fresh horses were at once saddled, and as soon as young Lamb had gotten warmed up the two men started for the place where Miss Welton had been left.

MISS WELTON FOUND DEAD

It was 4 o'clock in the morning when they reached the point Miss Welton was found stretched out in the snow, dead. Her features were placid Her sleepiness, the result of the cold had evidently overcome her soon after the departure of her guide, and she had lain down in the snow bank, well knowing the fate which would soon overtake her He side her was an ivory handled riding whip with her name and residence and in her belt was a handsomely gauntleted glove. Her heavy kid gloves had been removed and her diamond bedecked hands were found in the snow The two men carried the body between them as best they could, to where the horses were hattered, and at 9 o'clock the next morning arrived at the cabin. There a justice of the peace was sent for and the case explained to him He had the body placed in a box and then conveyed by wagon to Longmont, a distance of sixty miles, where it arrived this morning and was received by friends who had arrived from Colorado Springs The body will be sent to New York for burial

Mr I N. Rodgers, the undertaker at Lawrence and fifteenth street received a telegram at 3 o'clock yesterday morning to go to Longmont and take care of Miss Welton's remains He left on the 7 o'clock train and returned home last evening His account of Miss Welton's death, as told him by the parties who brought the body to Longmont, corresponds in the material points to the above special dispatch He says that young Lamb is no censured by the people living in the park, for he undoubtedly did what he considered the best thing to do when he abandoned Miss Welton and hurried on for assistance Fault is found by some who think young Lamb could have kept the lady from freezing by gathering some dry wood when he had reached timber line and kindled a fire where he left her Lamb is a rough, good hearted country boy, and says he did not think of anything else but to hasten to his father's cabin and get his assistance.

RUMORS OF VIOLENCE

Mr. Rodgers says that when the death was first reported there were rumors of foul play Miss Welton was known to possess a large amount of money, and, as this was not found on her person and the keeper of the hotel at Estes park said she had not left it with him, there were some grounds for suspicion This was all removed, however, when the proprietor of the hotel returned from Denver yesterday, and at once made it known that a package belonging to Miss Welton had been left in his care. This was opened and found to contain, besides a small amount of money, three drafts on New York banks for a large amount.

Latest from Longmont.

DENVER, September 27.—A Longmont special to the Tribune Republican says: The body of Miss Carrie J Welton, the lady who died on Long's Peak last Tuesday night about 11 from exposure to the cold, still remains here in charge of Mr. P. J. Pauley, a justice of the peace living in Estes park. The body has been embalmed and placed in an elegant metallic casket by Messrs J. M. Warner & Co, and is all ready for transportation to New York city, to which place it will probably be shipped to-morrow afternoon, accompanied by Miss Warren, formerly one of the proprietors of The Antlers, who is an old friend of Miss Welton Telegrams from New York convey the intelligence that Miss Welton is niece of one of the directors of the National Shoe & Leather bank, and that the family are very wealthy and will spare no expense in getting at the facts in the case. No new developments have come to light to day except the fact that Miss Welton was left alone on the peak a much longer time than the guide is willing to admit. Indeed, if the true story could be told, it would place young Lamb, the guide, in an unenviable light. Mr. H. W. Gilbert, proprietor of the livery stable at Estes Park, took Miss Welton up to Lamb's to remain over night so she could get an early start in ascending the peak, and she gave him orders to be sure to meet her at Lamb's Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock so she could return to Estes Park. When he arrived at Lamb's he learned she was dead The story young Lamb tells of returning immediately with assistance will not stand investigation.

Miss Welton was about thirty five years old, and would stand five feet eight inches She was of a very shapely build, with dark eyes and black hair. Her weight was about 125 pounds. She was warmly clad in a black alpaca dress and black broadcloth riding pants, a heavy black sacque, an elegant black dolman trimmed with astrachan fur, also a heavy cashmere shawl and a lady's gossamer waterproof. On her person was a five-shot revolver, also an elegant gold watch fastened by a black silk cord, and in her bosom was a chamois skin bag containing three elegant rings.

MISS WELTON'S HOME.

WATERBURY, Conn, September 27.—Carrie J. Welton, whose death from freezing while descending Long's Peak, Colorado, as reported in to-day's dispatches, was born in this city in 1843, and resided here most of her life. She was finely educated and a brilliant horsewoman, with a propensity to do uncommon things and achieve a reputation for courage and physical endurance. Her home here, Rose Hill cottage, is the handsomest residence in the city. At her father's death the house was left to her mother and the grounds to the daughter Her mother is now on the way home from Europe. The body will be brought here for interment in Riverside cemetery.

REPUBLICAN COUNTY TICKET

FOR REPRESENTATIVES
C W KITTREDGE
JOHN CURR
FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER
RUSSELL OATES

Neither Campbell nor Barker has yet withdrawn

El Paso county is good for 1,000 republican majority this fall

Thirty three to twenty six is an ugly combination of figures to our Campbell friends These figures don't lie either

The democrats are justly alarmed at the reception Blaine is receiving in his western trip Everywhere he goes his strength is immensely increased The crowds that assemble in every city show how near Blaine is to the people

One of the ugliest features of the late primaries was the attempt to "boycott" some of our business men It is not an entirely new custom. It was tried somewhat extensively two years ago There are some politicians here who take their trade from merchants, if they cast an independent vote They also control some official patronage that is taken away when the merchant does not vote right This year a merchant was told he would lose his trade, and have to give up business here if he voted the Hill ticket The merchant answered by saying he both proposed to do business here and also vote according to his convictions This is by no means a single instance as our readers well know This pressure is being brought to bear on merchants who propose to vote the Curr Kittredge ticket. It is foolish to carry this business too far for it is bound to react A merchant can afford to be much more independent about his vote than a politician about his trade Such politics are mean and contemptible A man should not be injured for living up to his convictions

The Times has given up trying to defend the precinct committee for its outrage in not issuing credentials to the Hill delegates in the First and Fourth wards It shows discretion The reason is that when brought to the point of proving anything beyond vague assertions, it finds itself unable to proceed The judges in these two wards did not number the ballots and there was no means of showing for whom any alleged fraudulent votes were cast The precinct committee in fact could not prove anything that would throw out the Hill delegates from these two wards It was barefaced cheating to claim there was a contest under these circumstances It should be remembered that the precinct committee appointed these judges that these judges carefully scrutinized every vote that challengers were present to challenge every suspicious vote and finally that there was no suspicion of the absolute carefulness and honesty of these judges There was therefore nothing to do but to submit to the result of the decision of these returns There never have been fairer primaries in this city than those of September 2d

And if we are reliably informed, and the GAZETTE can correct us if we are in error, the editor of that paper during his career as its managing editor has bolted the regularly nominated candidates for precinct, district and state officers —[Republic

It gives us pleasure to correct the Republic This paper and its editor have never bolted any republican nominees on the precinct or county ticket. There was no discussion about other tickets The Republic should prove to the contrary, if it can The discussion was regarding the county tickets. This is the ticket that the backers of the Republic have most persistently bolted In 1877, though the party was in a great majority, two republican candidates were defeated Professor J H Kerr was a candidate for county superintendent of schools and was defeated, and also the republican candidate for sheriff In precinct elections, the bolting was worst in 1882 when the man elected by the republican voters at the primaries to be the candidate for justice of the peace was "yanked" off the ticket by the county committee But the people emphatically rebuked this at the polls

THE OCTOBER CENTURY

The October Century, which closes the twenty eighth volume of this magazine contains the announcements of some of the features of the coming magazine year, chief among which is a profusely illustrated series on "Battles and Leaders of the Civil War," most of which will be written by generals, either upon the federal or confederate side, actually in command during the various engagements Prefatory to these articles is the opening paper to this number on "Lights and Shadows of Army Life," by George F Williams, the well known war correspondent, whose descriptions and anecdotes of the camp, the march, and the battle field, and the reminiscences of famous generals, are supplemented by engravings after the etchings of Edwin Forbes, the pictorial war correspondent

Henry Bacon, of the art colony in Paris, writes interestingly of Rosa Bonheur, whose portrait is engraved, together with several views of her studio and dwelling and one of well known paintings Brander Matthews writes with the knowledge of a friend a literary criticism of Austin Dobson whose portrait, after a monochrome by Frederick Watts, is the frontispiece of the number The other illustrated papers are Dr Eggleston's article on "Social Conditions in the Colonies," which is profusely illustrated by pictures of ante-revolutionary houses now standing, Prof Langley's second paper in his untechnical series on "The New Astronomy" describes in a popular way "The Surroundings of the Sun," the text being supplemented with nineteen drawings and diagrams, W J. Stillman concludes the account of his journey "On the Track of Ulysses," for which Harry Fenn has made the charming illustrations

The fiction of the number embraces a story, "Braxton's New Art" by William Henry Bishop author of "The House of a Merchant Prince," and "The Price I Paid for a Set of Ruskin" by Grace Denio Litchfield, whose first short story, "One Chapter" in The Century for last December, will be remembered In addition are the closing parts of Cable's "Dr Sevier" and of Boyesen's novelette, "A Problematic Character"

"The Cœur d'Alene Stampede" is a graphic account by Eugene V Smalley of the growth and decline of the recent mining craze

Washington Gladden contributes an interesting discussion, tending to show how the increase of wealth in the world is due to the progress of Christianity, and suggesting means for its employment.

The department of "Open Letters" is especially significant and timely, containing brief papers on "Is Arctic Exploration Worth its Cost" by Professor J E Nourse, "The Bombardment of Alexandria," by Stone Pasha and the commander of the United States ship Galena, a pithy article on "Congregational Singing," by Eugene Thayer, the organist of the Rev Dr John Hall's church, and two comments on the recent history of the Ku Klux Klan In Topics of the Time" are editorials on "Battles and Leaders of the Civil War," Tips and their Takers" and "The Danger of Delaying Reforms", and in "Bric a Brac" are aphorisms by Uncle Esek, humorous and society verse, etc.

ST NICHOLAS FOR OCTOBER

The last number of the present volume maintains the high standard of excellence that has marked it during the year—the best pledge of continued improvement in the future The number opens with a paper, historical, critical, and practical, on "Slang," by Lucia Gilbert Runkle, entertaining and valuable to parents and children alike With the title of "Another Indian Invasion," Mrs. Lizzie W Champney contributes a pleasant anecdotal account of the governmental school for Indians at Carlisle, Pa It is copiously illustrated by J Wells Champney, and from photographs and drawings by the scholars

The celebrated Lotos Club cat, Dick, is the subject of an appreciative sketch by his friend, Noah Brooks Various scenes in his nine lives are illustrated by H P Share, and his portrait, from an oil painting by J. H Dolph, accompanies the biography

"Lost on the Plains" is the title of a bright story by Joaquin Miller, and "The Romance of a Menagerie" is an account by J R Coryell of the remarkable friendship existing between little Donald Melville and "Queen" mother of the baby elephant Bridgeport" An amusing Irish story by Fred D Story, entitled "Lanty O'Hoolahan," is capitally illustrated by C G Bush "Corny's Catamount" is the last of Louis M Alcott's popular "Spinning wheel Stories" and "Louis of Bourbon, the Boy King," finishes J S Brooks' "Historic Boys" series Maurice Thompson brings "Marvin and his Boy Hunters" safely home through all their adventures, and J Vinton Blake's sparkling story, "The Dalzells of Daisydown," comes to a close in its second installment

Alfred Brennan and Frank Bellew illustrate their own contributions, and there are contributions, literary and artistic, by Mary Hallock Foote, Margaret Vandegrift, George F Barnes, Amanda B Harris, Palmer Cox and many others.

The Century magazine announces a series of papers of a popular character on the Battles and Leaders of the Civil War to be written by officers of high rank on both sides of the struggle, including Generals Grant, Beauregard, McClellan, Rosecrans, Admirals Porter and Walke, and others. The series will be plentifully and carefully illustrated

Charles J Bellamy, author of the novel, Breton Mills has been recently engaged on a book relating to social reform It is to be entitled The Way Out, and contains a thoughtful discussion of land and labor questions popular education, treatment of paupers and criminals and the correction of abuses in the administration of justice. Those who have seen the manuscript pronounce Mr Bellamy's suggestions quite original and presented in a popular way.

Miss Amelia B Edwards the English woman who combines the somewhat incongruous characters of archeologist and novelist, began, when a child to compose poems and stories before she knew how to write. She first appeared in print at seven years old with a poem called "The Knights of Old" When she was fourteen she sent to a magazine edited by George Cruikshank a story on the back of which she had scribbled caricatures of the personages appearing therein The drawings were so clever that Cruikshank went impulsively to call upon his unknown contributor, and finding to his astonishment that his contributor was a little girl, offered immediately to take her as an articled pupil and train her up to his work. This offer was declined and putting aside pen and pencil Miss Edwards devoted herself for seven years to music, and became not only an accomplished performer but a composer Then happening during a summer holiday to write a particularly successful story, she turned to authorship again, and has ever since been known as one of the cleverest of the English women novelists Miss Edwards has a handsome head, and a face pretty, gentle, and expressive

The reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a preventive of epidemics, a stomachic an invigorant, a general restorative, and a specific for fever and ague, indigestion, bilious affections, rheumatism, nervous debility, constitutional weakness, is established upon the sound basis of more than thirty years experience, and can no more be shaken by the claptrap nostrums of unscientific pretenders, than the everlasting hills by the winds that rustle through their defiles For sale by all druggists and dealers generally

An Important Letter from General Carr's Headquarters

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF COLORADO, GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC, MASONIC TEMPLE. LONGMONT, COLO., Sept. 18, 1884.

General Orders, No. 13.

I. General Orders No. 12, from these headquarters, fixed the date of the annual reunion at Colorado Springs for September 30. Upon consideration the executive committee have decided to change the date to October 9, to accommodate those of our comrades who cannot leave their business at the end of the month.

II. The following named comrades have been detailed to act as an executive committee, and will have charge of the general arrangements: D. W. Robbins, L. E. Sherman, J. L. Rand, L. C. Dana, A. Hemenway, Geo. Aux, and H. H. Randolph.

Sub-committees have been appointed and are engaged in the duties assigned to them.

III. Tents will be provided for all comrades and their families, the Sons of Veterans, the Woman's Auxiliary societies, and such of the state militia as may be in attendance. Invitations have been extended to the commanders of all the above named organizations to join the grand camp in this encampment, and such invitation is hereby extended to all members thereof.

Plenty of fire wood will be provided, but all persons intending to go into camp will come provided with blankets. Rations will be furnished up the grounds at a cost not to exceed one dollar per day.

IV. The following rates have been adopted for members of the G. A. R. and their immediate families, Sons of Veterans, and members of the Ladies Auxiliary, to Colorado Springs and return.

The tickets will be sold at Grand Army rates, as stated in the foregoing, on certificates from the adjutants of posts, showing the holders to be members in good standing, and also stating the members of their families who are entitled to the rates. Post commanders will please make this plain to their posts, so that agents will not have trouble when it comes to selling the tickets.

Tickets will be on sale in time to enable parties to reach Colorado Springs on the 9th, and will be good until the 14th.

V. Post commanders will issue their orders in suitable time, assembling their posts for the purpose of making arrangements and giving such information as they may deem necessary, they will also see that so far as possible every comrade is notified.

VI. The muster of Steadm an Post No. 54 has been reported to these headquarters by Comrade J. C. Dubois, A. D. C., special mustering officer.

Comrade J. M. Fox, commander.

Comrade Chester Greenwood, adjutant.

VII. The several newspapers of Colorado and Wyoming are requested to publish this order, and post commanders are requested to procure its publication in their local papers.

Barney McAuley.

From the Boston Herald we take the following very favorable criticism of Barney McAuley: "A Messenger from Jarvis Section" met with an enthusiastic reception last night at the Park Theatre. The honest, sturdy nature of the big-hearted old farmer, Uncle Dan'l, was portrayed to the life. His quick resolutions and prompt actions in positions of danger contrasted finely with his unctuous humor in the quieter scenes, and his pathos had the true ring. Mr. McAuley's fine physique is greatly in his favor in the part, and his mobile features and expressive eyes aid immensely in the delineation of emotion. Mr. McAuley was honored by nearly a dozen calls to the footlights, where he was summoned by the heartiest of applause and cheers from all parts of the house, and the curtain was called two or three times at the close of every act.

The company opens at the opera house tomorrow night.

Silk Manufacture in America.

Springfield Republican.

Silk manufacturing has grown wonderfully in the United States in the last thirty-five years, the most remarkable increase being from 1870 to 1880, where it was 250 per cent. This country stands second now in this branch of industry, France ranking first, and promises to lead before long. The value of the silk manufacture of 1880 was $41,033,045, New Jersey leading with $17,122,230, while New York followed with $10,170,140, Connecticut, $5,881,100; Massachusetts, $3,764,260, and Pennsylvania, $3,491,840. A number branches of the industry received a special impetus from the centennial exhibition, notably gros-grain dress silks and handkerchiefs, while silk tapestry and similar goods are products of the last six years. With the growth of local manufacture the importation of foreign silks has fluctuated and of late years has fallen off, the decline from 1882 to 1883 being $6,314,069, while the decrease will be still greater this year. Meanwhile the importation of raw silk has increased, and this country is now considered the best market in the world, suggesting possibilities in American cocoon raising which ought not to be neglected, as certain portions of the United States are perfectly adapted to the growth of the mulberry tree. American silk manufacturers have several strong advantages over foreign competitors. They have a good home market, can readily adapt themselves to sudden changes in fashions, and while using more machinery, produce the best and most uniform fabrics.

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

TO THE

Constitution of the State of Colorado.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Is hereby given that at the general election to be held in the several wards and precincts of this state on the fourth (4) day of November, A. D., 1884, and pursuant to the provisions of an act of the general assembly of the state of Colorado, passed at the fourth session thereof, being an act entitled

"An act to submit to the qualified electors of the state of Colorado amendments to sections six (6), nineteen (19), and twenty-two (22), of article five (5), of the constitution of the state of Colorado, concerning legislative department." Approved February 11, 1883. The following proposed amendments to the constitution of the state of Colorado will be submitted to the qualified electors of said state for their approval or rejection, which when ratified by a majority of those voting thereon shall be valid as a part of the constitution of said state, that is to say: "Section six (6), of article five (5), of the constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended so as to read as follows, to wit:"

"SECTION 6.—Each member of the general assembly, until otherwise provided by law, shall receive, as compensation for his services, seven dollars ($7.00) for each day's attendance and fifteen ($15) cents for each mile necessarily traveled in going to and returning from the seat of government, and shall receive no other compensation, perquisite, or allowance whatsoever. No session of the general assembly shall exceed ninety days. No general assembly shall fix its own compensation."

"Section nineteen (19), of article five (5), of the constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended so as to read as follows, to-wit:"

"SECTION 19.—No act of the general assembly shall take effect until ninety days after its passage, (except in case of emergency which shall be expressed in the act) [unless] the general assembly shall by a vote of two-thirds of all the members elected to each house otherwise direct. No bill, except the general appropriation bill for the expenses of the government, only, introduced in either house of the general assembly after the first thirty days of the session shall become a law."

"Section twenty-two (22), of said article five (5), of the constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended so as to read as follows, to-wit:"

"SECTION 22.—Every bill shall be read by title when introduced, and at length on two different days in each house; all substantial amendments made thereto shall be printed for the use of the members before the vote is taken on the bill, and no bill shall become a law except by a vote of a majority of all the members elected to each house, nor unless on its final passage the vote be taken by ayes and noes and the names of those voting be entered on the journal."

"And by said act submitting said amendments it is further provided that"

"Each elector voting at said election and desirous of voting for or against all of the amendments as a whole, shall deposit in the ballot box a ticket whereon shall be written or printed the words, 'For the amendments,' or the words, 'Against the amendments.' Any such elector not desirous of voting as aforesaid may express his approval or rejection of any one or more of said amendments as in the other case; Provided, That he shall designate any amendment so approved or rejected by him, by number in the order in which it occurs in this act, and that the votes cast for the adoption or rejection of said amendments or of either of them shall be canvassed and the result determined in the manner provided by the laws of the state for the canvass of votes for representative in congress."

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of the state of Colorado, at Denver, in said state, this First day of August, A. D. 1884.

THE BEST
SUMMER BOOKS.

GUERNDALE. By "J. S. of Dale." Paper edition, 50 cents; cloth, $1.25.

The romance, for no other name properly describes it, is full of delicacy and beauty. The author has given us a story such as we have not had in this country since the time of Hawthorne.—Boston Advertiser.

THE CRIME OF HENRY VANE. By "J. S. of Dale." 1 vol, 12mo, $1.

It is difficult to phrase the admiration we feel without incurring the charge of extravagance. It is one of the most notable contributions to American literature.—Boston Courier.

NEWPORT. A Novel. By George Parsons Lathrop. Summer edition. 1 vol, paper, 50 cents; cloth, $1.25.

Mr. Lathrop's best novel.—The Nation.

THE FAIRALLS OF TIPTON. By Miss Virginia M. Thompson. $1.25.

A charming and striking story of New England life, strong in the delineation of its characters, dramatic in the management of the situations and interesting in its plot.

THE LADY OR THE TIGER? AND OTHER STORIES. By Frank R. Stockton. $1.

No magazine story for a very long time has given rise to such animated discussion as Mr. Stockton's enigmatical situation, "The Lady or the Tiger?" "His Wife's Deceased Sister," "The Transferred Ghost," "That Same Old Coon," "Mr. Tolman," "The Training of Parents," "Every Man His Own Letter Writer," and the other stories which make up this collection, are equally remarkable for their novelty, surprise of plot, and cleverness.

THE KING'S MEN. A Tale of To-morrow. By Robert Grant, John Boyle O'Reilly, J. S. of Dale, and John T. Wheelwright. 1 vol, 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

This daring and ingenious story of the future is unquestionably destined to be the most widely discussed book of the summer. The brilliant literary partnership which produced it has aroused the keenest curiosity; and certainly the experiment has been the boldest in the history of literary collaboration. Of the plot, or of what can be gathered from the story's hints concerning the course of politics in the reign of King George the Fifth, it need only be said that the audacity of their conception is fully supported by the admirable telling and exciting incident of the story. The book is crowded with action and ingenious complication; and yet the powers which the authors have shown elsewhere are never lost in its rapid movement.

Though not a political document, the story, "The End of New York," by Park Benjamin, will be one of peculiar interest to those who, a few years ago, were disposed to criticise Mr. Blaine's foreign policy. It will be found in the midsummer number of Stories by American Authors. For sale everywhere; 50 cents.

"A brilliant series" is what the Boston Courier calls Scribner's Stories by American Authors. Five volumes are now published, containing nearly thirty strikingly individual and meritorious tales. Bound in cloth, 50 cents each.

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO'S
NEW BOOKS.

A COUNTRY DOCTOR. A novel. By Sarah Orne Jewett, author of "Deephaven," "Country By-Ways," etc. 16mo, $1.25.

In this novel Miss Jewett uses on a larger scene and with increased effect the qualities which have made her short stories so popular and so thoroughly delightful. A woman physician figures in it, but the story is quite unlike the novels by Mr. Howells and Miss Phelps in which women physicians are the heroines. It gives wonderfully accurate pictures of New England characters, customs and scenery; the heroine is "one of our girls" and as such will charm readers as few heroines do in current novels. The freshness, the sincerity, the helpful sympathy, which render Miss Jewett's stories at once so attractive and wholesome, pervade "A Country Doctor," and can hardly fail to make it one of the most widely popular and welcome of this summer's novels.

THE FATE OF MANSFIELD HUMPHREYS. With the Episode of Mr. Washington Adams in England, and an Apology. By Richard Grant White. 16mo, $1.25.

This is one of the most entertaining of "international" books, in which the mutual misconceptions and prejudices of Englishmen and Americans are developed and illustrated.

PHŒBE. A Novel. By the author of "Rutledge." 16mo, $1.25.

An American story in character and incidents, told with so much life and spirit that it will be hailed as a special boon by novel readers. To a multitude looking for summer reading, this story needs no other recommendation than that it is by the author of "Rutledge."

THE AMERICAN HORSEWOMAN. By Elizabeth Karr. Illustrated, 12mo, $2.00.

An admirably practical book. The selection and management of a horse, all the details of equipment, every separate article of dress that the rider should wear, and the making of it—all these are described specifically; and the book is made still more useful by illustrative cuts, the whole forming a manual of great value to any lady who would become thoroughly skillful in the equestrienne art.

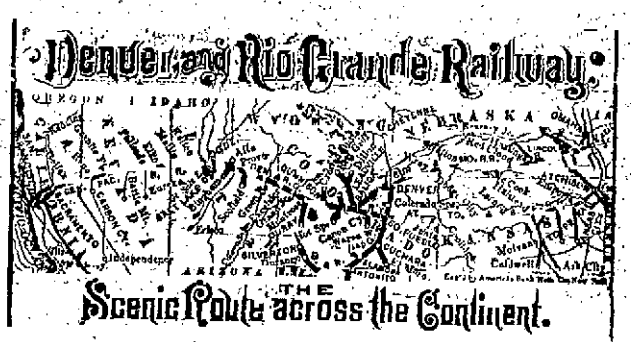

SUMMER. From the Journals of H. D. Thoreau, author of "Walden," "Cape Cod," etc. Edited by H. G. O. Blake. With a map of Concord. 12mo, gilt top, $1.50.

This book comprises selections from Thoreau's Journals containing observations and reflections during the summers of many years. Some of these are descriptive, with that fine photographic accuracy which marks Thoreau's pictures of natural scenes. Other passages contain those subtle reflections on society, religion, laws, literature, which also characterize whatever Thoreau wrote, and which pique the curiosity and stimulate the minds of his readers.

FASTEST TIME ON RECORD

Sunday, September 14th, the popular Burlington Route commenced running over the Oxford-Kenesaw cut off, the completion of which makes this the shortest line to Omaha, Chicago and all points east by 50 miles. Passengers from this city can save FOUR hours by taking the Burlington train from Denver, where direct connections are made with all D. & R. G. trains. Pullman buffet cars are run through from Denver to Chicago every day in the year, without change, over the Burlington. Passengers can take the D. & R. G. trains leaving Colorado Springs at 4.05 or 5.40 p. m., and take Burlington train leaving Denver at 9.45 p. m., reaching Chicago in 39½ hours. For tickets and information inquire of J. M. Ellison, agent of the D. & R. G., Colorado Springs. j-17-tf

BOARDING AND DAY SCHOOL.

Fourth Year.

MRS. H. T. SHROPSHIRE, Principal.

The above well-known and popular school for the youth of both sexes and of all ages, reopened as advertised, on September 3d, with increased facilities for the advancement of all who are or may become members thereof. In addition to the unexcelled opportunities for the acquirement of a thorough English, French and classical education, a new feature has been introduced—that of the Leland Remunerative Art System, which, while it will not be allowed to interfere with the regular studies, will aid materially in refining, elevating and ennobling the character of the students. These classes will not be limited to the members of the school, but are open to any one, young or old, who desires to study art in its varied departments, either as an accomplishment or with the view of utilizing it. A lady carefully trained in the Leland Art School in Philadelphia will have charge of the classes in modelling, wood carving, repousse work, painting in all its varieties, embroidery, etc.

TERMS MODERATE.
